

How old were you when you went to Nepal?

I was 8 years old.

Did you enjoy your holiday?

Yes I did, it was a fantastic holiday.

Did your Mum and Dad enjoy the holiday?

Of course they did, it was brilliant.

What planned activities did you do during your holiday?

We went white water rafting, elephant riding, elephant washing, trekking, on a jeep and canoe safari. We even tried our hand at pottery and met a Sherpa who had been to the top of Everest.

So, was the rafting fun or scary?

The kids were in one boat and it was great fun, the adults were in the other boat. It was a little scary but more exciting.

What did you like best about your Nepal holiday?

Everything. The Nepalese people are so friendly.

I especially loved playing football with the porters and guides on our trek, we were on the top of a mountain and I really loved rafting.

Why?

Because it was great fun and I wanted to do it over and over again.

What didn't you like and why?

I loved everything there was nothing wrong with this holiday, except maybe curry for breakfast.

Did you get to meet Nepalese children?

Yes tons and tons of them.

What sort of things were you able to enjoy with the Nepalese children?

Football, cricket and running races. One of them even gave me a puppy but mum and dad wouldn't let me keep it.

What about your guide? Did you like him?

Yes our guide was the best guide ever. I really liked him, he looked after us.

Was your guide 'bossy' or did he treat like a friend?

He was nice and treat us as a friend.

What did you think about your holiday itinerary? Was there too much of anything, not enough of anything?

Well I would have liked another day on the mountain but apart from that it was fine.

We had lots of planned activities but had free time to explore on our own too, it was just right.

You did a short trek. Did you enjoy that ? Was it hard, easy, or just right for you?

It was just right because we had a few breaks, although I was red hot and sweating at the end. The guides showed us how pop leaves.

What sort of things did you do on trek at camp?

We played football, we learned how to whistle with a leaf and got to explore the area. We had tea under the stars and got up really early to see the sun rise. We ate cake and drank a lot of hot chocolate.

Did you like the places you stayed?

Yes they were all very cosy and nice.

What different types of places did you stay in ?(e.g. hotel, guest house, camping)

We went to a lovely hotel, cool guest houses and had two nights camping.

Which was your favourite?

Mine was the camping because I like sleeping outdoors in tents.

What differences do you think there are between Nepal and England?

England is richer and more developed and their religion is different. The food is very different and the views are spectacular.

Did you feel safe in Nepal? No, a little, very?

Yes I felt very, very safe. The roads are very exciting to travel on.

What other countries have you been to on holiday?

Portugal, Egypt, Menorca, Lanzarote, England and Scotland.

Was your Nepal holiday better, or not as good as the other places you've been on holiday to?

It was the best holiday I have ever been on, it was great. I like trying new things and Nepal was different to anywhere I'd ever been before.

Why?

Because this one had loads of action in it and lots of adventure in it and it was so different to what I'm used to.

So.....If you could, would you go back to Nepal for a holiday again?

In a second, I would definitely love to go again.

(If yes), what other fun things would you like to do there next time?

Feed the elephants that would be awesome and visit a school. I'd like to do a longer trek.

Is there anything else you'd like to say about Nepal and your Nepal holiday?

It was a great experience and I'll remember it forever, I'd love to do it again.
